No Title Required

When considering how trite yearbook titles have become over the years, one can see how a stereotypical title cannot be placed on a school such as Sussex Central. As you glance through these pages and note the students as well as the faculty, you will realize what exactly is meant by the name No Title Required. We at Sussex Central feel we do not need any other description. We speak for ourselves.

EXCALIBUR

The '86-'87 school year brought many changes to Sussex Central. The sophomore class consisted of one hundred more students than the previous graduating class. The school itself went through some changes. The business classes were moved into the old elementary section and an additional six rooms were added onto the building.

But as the saying goes, some things never change. The juniors hosted the prom. The sophomores got their licenses, and the seniors had their senior class trip and finally graduated. The parking problem will always exist.

Fairy Tale Lover

The 1986 prom was indeed a special fairy tale. Everyone was dressed in their finest. The band, Tranzfusion, was among the highlights of the night. Michele Feichtl, the queen, and Jamie Lesniczak, the princess, surely showed looks of royalty.

So it shows that fairy tale dreams do come true.

.... A night well worth waiting for.

Day 2: Twin Day
Students and staff showed their SC spirit by dressing up like their friend.
Most Spirited: Debbie Hudson & Mandy Katz
Shown are: Earl Savage, Carroll Wagner, Tina King, Valerie King, Julie Jenkins, Lisa Kohn

Day 3: Opposites Day
Day 3 of spirit week was a blast! The guys dressed up as the girls and the girls dressed up as the guys.
Most Spirited: Kim Westrod & William Godwin
Shown are: Kim Westrod, William Godwin, Michael Cave

Day 4: Greek God Day
Students wore togas and leaves in their hair to symbolize a Greek god.
Most Spirited: Matt Barlow & Larry Rohlfing
Shown are: Allen Lewis, Vicky Jarmon, Lisa Harmon, Sandy Reynolds, Billy Reed

Day 5: Blue & Gold Day
Students showed their SC spirit by wearing whatever they could find that was blue and gold.
Most Spirited: Larry Rohlfing & Crystal Hill
Shown are: Larry Rohlfing, Lisa Taylor, Crystal Hill

Day 6: Slave Day
Students and faculty were amused to see the slaves following the orders of their masters for the day.
Shown are: Charles Briggs, Chuck Hall, Lance Abbott, Lance Keeler, Mrs. Jackson, Mr. Mott-Lynn

Slave Day

Homecoming

Although we lost our homecoming game against Dover 7 to 14, we showed a great amount of SC spirit. Many fans came out and supported the football team. The band showed up at the game and played a few tunes, and the cheerleaders played a big part in keeping our spirit up. They did several cheers, which helped fire everyone up, and even though we didn't win, the fans kept their SC spirit throughout the game.

Tina Farris

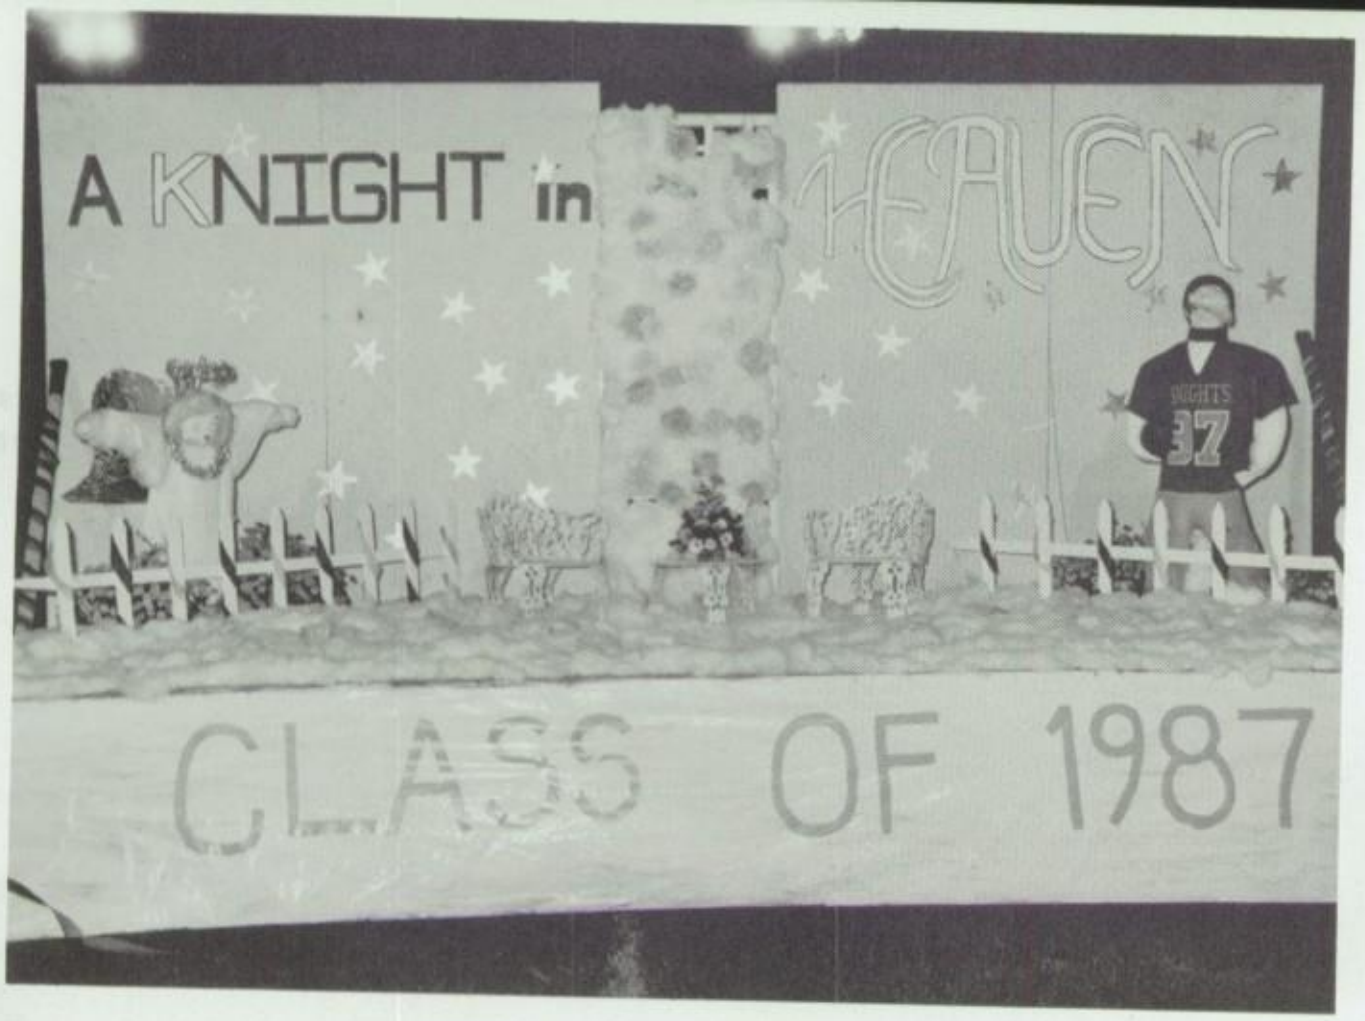
The Homecoming half-time entertainment was provided by the SC Chorus, the Voices of Freedom, and the drama and communications classes. The chorus and Voices of Freedom joined hands and sang two selections, "We Are the World" and "That's What Friends Are For". Special effects were added by drama and communications classes, which added pizzazz. All in all, it was an exciting and interesting performance.

Vernell Hooper

Before the game, students and teachers participated in and enjoyed the revelry at the pep rally.

That night, Amy Scott and Tish Pusey rode with their escorts on the Sophomores' winning float. Nicole Semanco and Marvetta McCray, along with their escorts, rode on the Juniors' float.

Becky Johnson



The Senior float, which traditionally carries the Queen and Princess accompanied by their escorts, paraded our 1986 Homecoming Queen Michele Angel and Princess Jamie Lesniczak. The other candidates were Lisa Parkinson, Kellie Tidwell and Kenna Headley. This year's foreign exchange student from Italy, Grazia Garuti, also took part in the half-time ceremonies.

Not Quite Academic

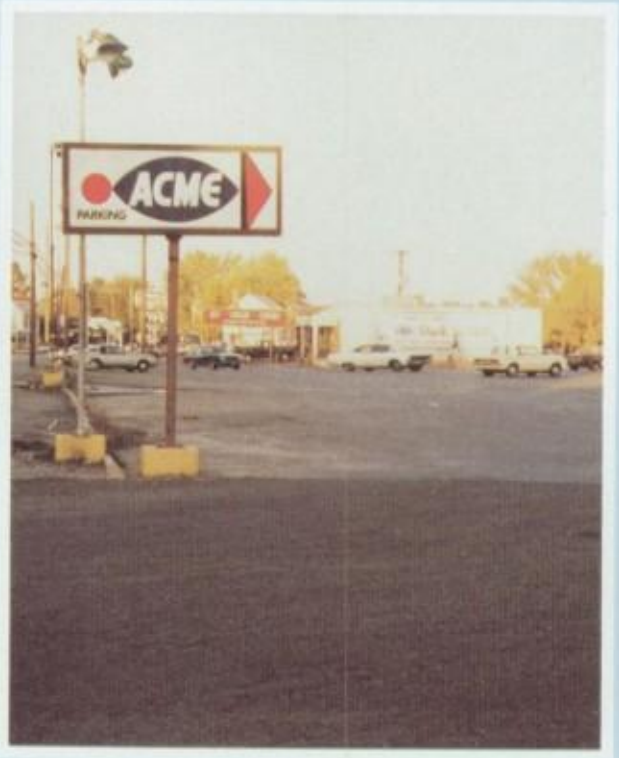
As you can see, the saying "All Work and No Play" doesn't entirely hold its name at Sussex Central. There was the Excalibur Yard Sale and Bake Sale, some examples of Mr McCarron's "Iron Discipline", and the attentiveness of the student body. Keep serving 'em, Mrs. Donaway!

Becky Johnson

. . . But Original

When our truant officer, Charlie Hudson, went out looking for those naughty students who skip class, he found to his dismay that they were nowhere to be found. He tried McDonald's, the Acme parking lot, and even the football field. They must've all been in class for a change. Better luck next time, Mr. Hudson!

Becky Johnson



Hangin' Around

After 3:10

Thank God the day is over! The time after announcements seems an hour long -- announcements come on and it's like a mad house. Many students rush to their lockers to unload and try to beat the crowd at the refreshment stand for "Central's Best Fries" and satisfying soft drinks. Or they just want to hang around. They wait patiently for their big yellow transports. Then they load up to end a long day's work.

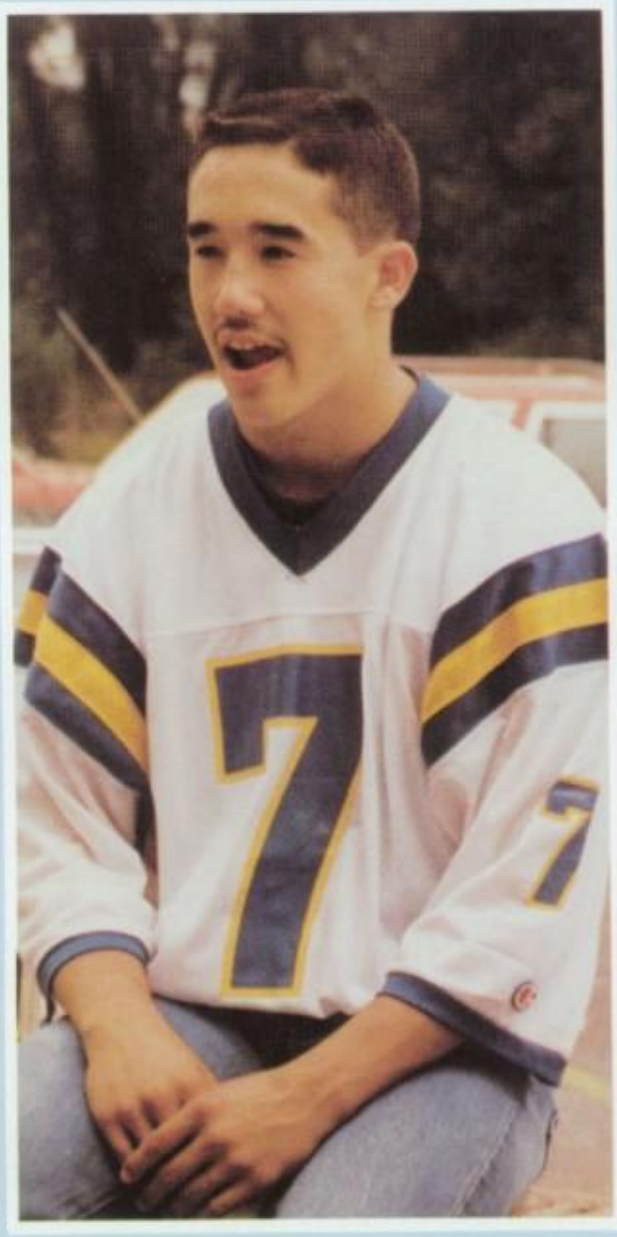
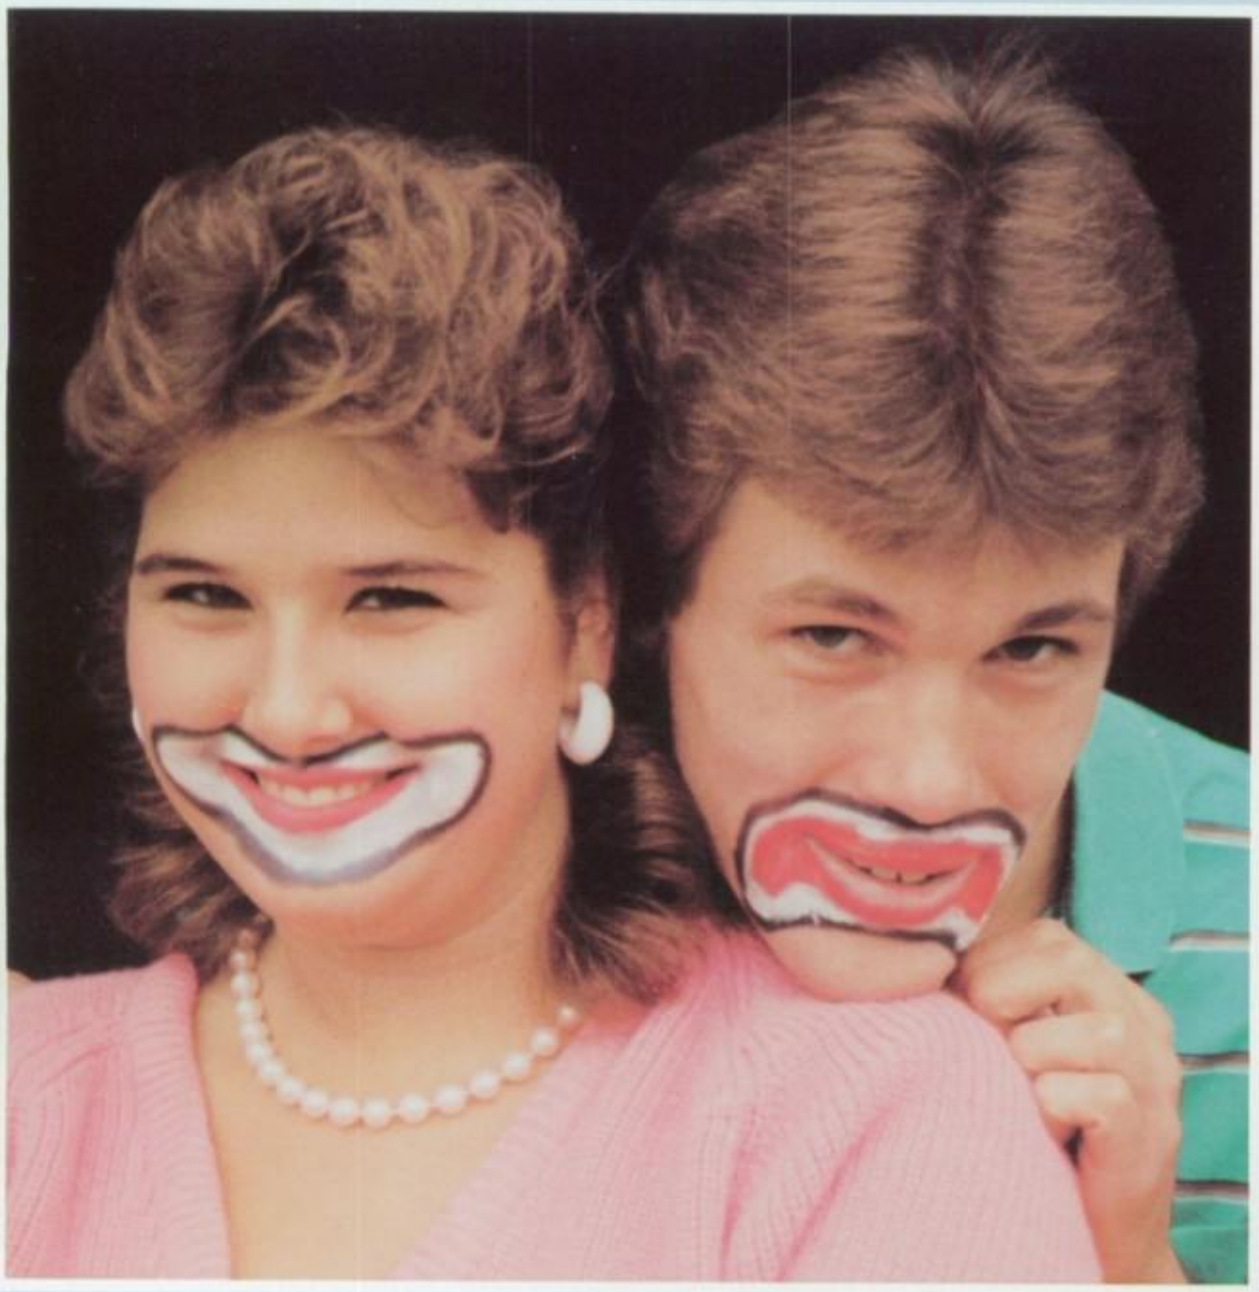
Through The Years





Remember.....

-when Mr. Long was engaged.
-when Mrs. Mueller had her baby.
-the Seaford riot (basketball game).
-when Sheila Hagen was sweet and innocent.
-the long lunch lines at McDonald's during exams.
-skipping to go to McDonald's and never getting caught. (Ha-ha Mr. Wagner.)
-when the class of '87 won the spirit stick five times in a row.
-when Troy Truitt "cared".
-when "Man's mind enabled him to think and reason."
-when Mitch Bramble was always grounded.
-gerbils and Snake!
-all the egg fights in '85 and '86.
-when the 2nd period office assistants "accidentally" spread music throughout the entire school. Oops!
-Mr. Peden's "Memory System". (I hope so!)

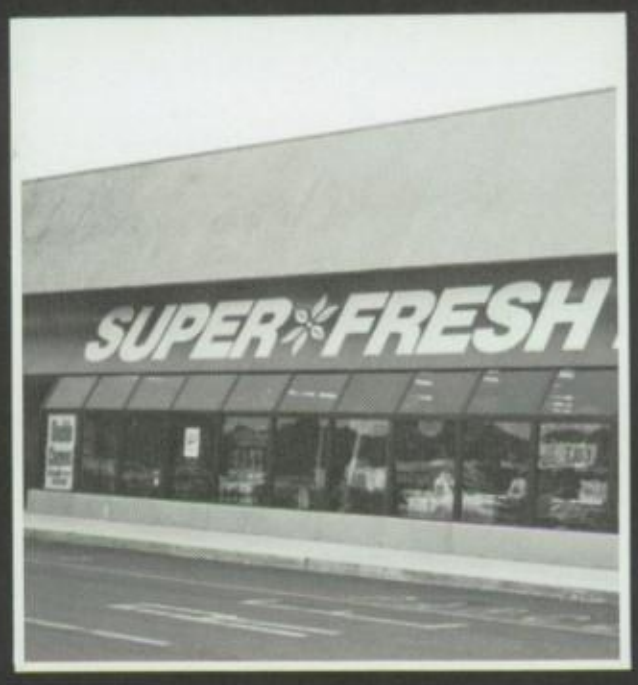
Working
For The Money

There are two types of job releases for CO-OP. They are Diversified Occopations and Business Occupations. In Diversified Occupations, our school does not have the facilities to train students for particular jobs. Therefore, they must go on a job site to learn job skills. Other CO-OP students are involved in Business Occupations. When students are involved in this type of CO-OP, they are taught the basic knowledge of the business trade during school hours.

Most students want to go out on CO-OP for the challenge. There are also some who work because they need the money.

After graduating from high school, the students have a head start on their career. Because of CO-OP they are not going out into the working world without any skill or experience.

Tammy Fox



Many area businesses employ Sussex Central CO-OP students. Above are shown examples of students at work and businesses involved in CO-OP.

Sussex Central

No Two Days The Same

Students at Sussex Central have what every school wants: "class". An ordinary day could bring some quite unusual happenings.

We at Central show many talents both in and out of school. Central students set one goal and that's "To be the best" and they always seem to achieve it quite well. That's why at Central we feel no title is required.

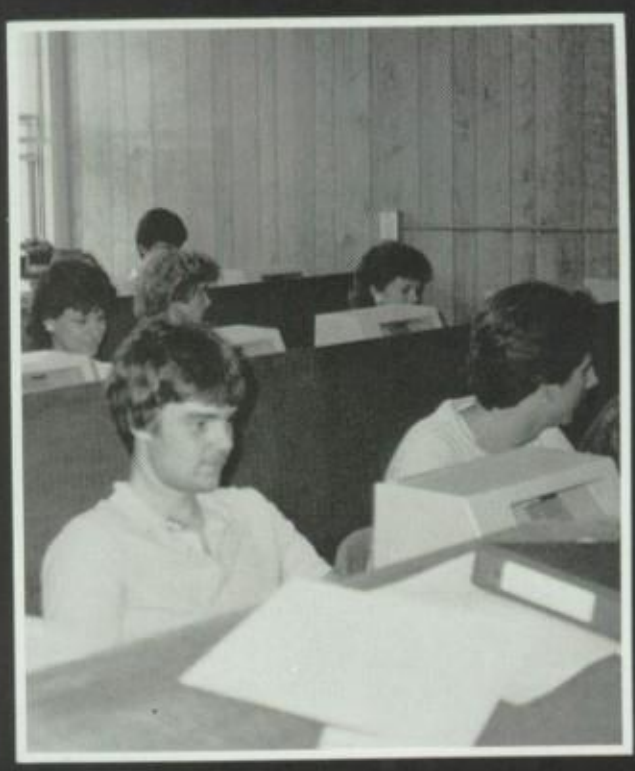
Computer Lab
Gets Plenty Of Use

Everyone is familiar with the computer lab. That's because you either take Computer Literacy, which is a requirement, or you take the course as an elective. The students agree that playing with computers is fun. Students go to the computer lab for a variety of reasons, but mainly to type reports. Using Appleworks to type your term paper is faster and easier. Ask anyone who has had to turn in a term paper.

Teachers also have discovered the advantages of the computer lab for record keeping, typing, tests, creating puzzles, and scoring on the Scan-Tron machine.

Mr. Quillen has been a real help to everyone coming to the computer lab.

Karla Isler



People found using the computer lab include (above) Michelle Phillips, Mr. Earl Quillen, Beth Pepper, Dawn Marvel, Stacey Reynolds, Tom Warren, Donald Strick, Rudy Daisey, Amy Holloway

Bonjour

Summing up a year in just a few paragraphs isn't an easy task. So many things were new and different and I only have a chance to write a few down.

Starting with family -- I lived with the Lavergnes in Grand-Mere, Quebec, Canada. Both of my parents were teachers and my sister, 13, and brother, 10, were both younger than I. We skied every weekend from November until mid-April. Many other times we traveled to other cities such as Quebec and Montreal. Those were a few of the family oriented activities that we did.

The French culture was very prevalent, mainly in the eating habits, dress and ideals. But, of course, there were some American influences like McDonald's!

Friends became very important during my year abroad. Chantal and Annie, my best friends, kept me from going crazy during low points or during homesickness, but basically we just had a terrific time going out and being together.

School was much different since we went home to eat, had fewer classes a day and not much homework. There weren't many extracirricular activities, but I had a chance to play on the volleyball team.

It was a year to grow on and definitely one to remember.

Maia Sponseller

Ciao

When first I arrived here, everything was new and strange to me. After a few weeks I realized that my year in the U.S. would be really great, thanks to my beautiful family, Maude and Ken Rogers and my sister Katie; they really did everything for me and gave me love.

The first day at Sussex Central I was a little bit nervous, but the following days I felt very comfortable. I have found many friends with whom I have had a lot of fun. I will also never forget the teachers who made me feel like a real American student and have helped me in all the ways they could.

I really enjoyed playing hockey; it was a great season. For that I want to thank all the girls and my coach.

I will always remember my beatiful year in Delaware. Thanks once more to all those who made me feel so good. Good luck to the wonderful class of '87. Don't forget me, because I will never forget you, and if you ever come to Italy, come and see me.

If you could it over again, what profession would you choose?

The majority would be in the education field: Baker, Barkauskie, Bibb, Botto, Bryan, Dean, Donaway, Doney, Drummond, Fisher, Graden, Givens, Hall, Handy, Miller, Mitchell, Quillen, Targonski, Savage, Soukup, Stancik, Starling, Wagner, West

Those who would choose a different profession are:
Foskey- Investment broker, math or business teacher
Hoffman- Housewife
Jackson- I would probably major in the related field of folklore in America, get my doctorate, publish articles, and teach on a college level (note better $)
Kaus- Editor in a publication house
Kichline- Head zookeeper, but I guess I'm doing the next best thing.
Lawson- Lawyer
Lemos- Research and development or underwater basket weaving
Lobo- Electrician
Marvel- M.D.
Mott-Lynn- Zoology
Snyder- Forensic scientist
Stafursky- Journalism
Tolliver- Stock broker, investment broker
Windett- Probably nursing

What annoys you most in a student?

Over half of those responding found apathy, lack of effort, failure to live up to their potential or lack of motivation as their pet peeve. (Bibb, Botto, Dean, Doney, Drummond, Fisher, Hall, Handy, Jackson, Kaus, Lawson, Lemos, Miller, Quillen, Snyder, Starling, Tolliver and Windett) Mrs. Fisher: "When a student will not work on the assignments which could result in a better grade, I become very annoyed." Mr. Bibb: ". . . one who can do well but just gets by."

Others cited rudeness or disrespect. (Baker, Foskey, Kaus, Rust, Stancik and Windett) Mrs. Kaus: "Apathy in all things and disrespect toward others."

Lack of responsibility was frequently mentioned. (Donaway, Drummond, Graden, Kichline and Soukup) Mrs. Donaway: "I am most annoyed by students who fail to use their intelligence to think for themselves."

Lack of self respect annoyed most others. (Bryan, Savage, West) Mr. Bryan "Students who accept defeat, have low self-images and don't think they deserve success annoy me." Others were bothered by dishonesty or sneakiness (Foskey, Givens, Stafursky), absences (Hoffman), failure to listen or interrupting (A. Barkauskie, Mitchell), dirt balls (Dean), placing jobs and social events above school (Wagner), wasting time (Marvel), and saying they don't understand (Lobo).

Mr. Mott-Lynn was most annoyed by "one with a broken hand who isn't ambidexterous."

Yearbook

Sheila Hagen, Editor-in-Chief, an Susan Stafursky, Advisor

Having been on the yearboo staff in junior high and now in se nior high, I've learned how muc hard work and dedication it take to produce a yearbook.

I feel I've gained a lot of exper ence working with others. I hop we've made a yearbook that every one can look back on and remembe
all the good times at Sussex Centra
High School!

S.C. On Stage

There are many S.C. students who are musically oriented. The band, for instance, is there for those who are interested in playing instruments. For the students who enjoy singing, the chorus is available. For those who are talented in both but do not have enough time during the school day, there is Excalibur, for which practices are after school and in the evenings.

The whole school has benefitted from these talented groups in a number of ways. The Christmas and spring concerts, along with some other entertaining performances, were performed during school. These skilled groups also travelled to other places to display their talents and to represent S.C.

According to Coach Long:

"The 1986 baseball team enjoyed another fine season by going 15-6. The team ended the season ranked third in the state after losing to state champion Seaford 2-1 in the semi-finals of the state championship. S.C. was fortunate enough this year to have two All State players, Tommy Penuel and Lance Abbott.

"Many of the players are returning this year, so everyone has high expectations for the 1987 team."

Congratulations are definitely in order also for the J.V. team, who had a spectacular, undefeated season of 18-0.

The Lady Knights had a challenging season with a record of 5-6-1 despite the many injuries that occurred throughout the season. The success that we had was due to the ability to play the game and to the dedication of the players.

There were three members of the team that achieved all-conference recognition: Ist All Conference Defense -- Donna Polk, 2nd All Conference Offense -- Valerie Snow, Honorable Mention -- Jeneen Cannon.

The 1986 varsity soccer team ended their season 9-6-2. They started out thinking it was going to be a rebuilding season, but they proved themselves wrong. They clinched 3rd place in the conference. Also, making school history, they went to the state tournament. "A" Sussex Central first.

Senior Paul Conway was selected Ist team all conference and 2nd team all state. Senior David Stevens and junior Kevin Cash were selected 2nd team all conference. Senior Joe Ribinsky and sophomore Harold Elliott made honorable mention. All in all, congratulations, soccer team, and good luck next year.

The 1986 Sussex Central football team was comprised of 46 young men who came together and accepted a challenge of pointing our football program in the right direction. Their goal was to build on the pride left by the previous team and lay a foundation that future teams could use to help them reach their goals.

This team won their first three games of the season and were ranked fifth in the state before a steady progression of injuries depleted the depth of the team. Rather than give up, this band of Golden Knights held together and displaying their character in the last home game of the season, upset tournament bound Laurel High School 7-6, with a tremendous team effort.

Pride, determination, and courage are but a few of the many words which could describe the 1986 football team. I am proud of them and their accomplishments, and am most thankful to have been able to be their coach.

At the time of this writing, about two-thirds of the way through the season, the boys' varsity basketball team was second in the Henlopen Conference with a position in the state tournament definite.

Good team defense and strong coaching were two major strengths this year. The starting five -- Mark Peden, Doug Reed, Johnnie Gibbs, Mike Cave and Robert Ruffin -- led the team effectively. It was an unusually exciting season because of the number of close games; there were no easy games.

Next year holds a lot of promise, because three of the starting five will return. Congratulations to the team on a successful season.

The 1986-87 girls' basketball team endured many injuries and loss of personnel due to graduation, yet they gelled into a good team. The team was led by senior Monnie Norwood. Monnie was a lst team all-conference selection and a 2nd team all-state selection as a junior. Monnie is slowly recovering from knee surgery. She was the second leading scorer in the conference, averaging better than l6 points a game.

The team missed the leadership and play of senior Pebbles Polk. Pebbles, who sustained a knee injury during hockey season, was able to play in only two games all year.

The team was led by the play of junior guard Jeneen Cannon and sophomore guard Pam Hopkins. Rounding out the squad were juniors Robin Esham and Theresa Mitchell and sophomores Andrea Jones, Trina Sheppard, Tiffany McCray and Dawn Marvel. A welcome addition to the team was senior exchange student Grazia Garuti, playing basketball for the first time.

With many underclassmen returning, Coach Marvel is looking forward to a good year in l987 - 88.

Karen Polk
1967 - 1986

Karen Polk was known and loved by many for her beautiful smile and personality. She is no longer with us, but memories of her always will be. These memories are of her playing basketball, making her own beautiful clothes, wearing her many hairstyles and, of course, her famous walk in the halls. It is a great tragedy that such a unique life had to be taken as the result of a fatal car accident.

Last Will And Testament

Lance Abbott--To Robert Ruffin I leave a sink and wash cloth, to "Choke" Hall a real foot, to my coaches and teachers many thanks, and to Jamie all.
Linda Adams--I leave many thanks to all my teachers and my family. I leave all my love to Kevin Wharton.
Michael Andrie--I leave my books, my ability to learn, and the ability to stay out of trouble to Tracy Byers. I also leave her the strength to stay innocent.
Michele D. Angel--I, Michele D. Angel, leave Cindy McCabe all of my answers, and to Senor Kichline my thanks for his friendship and the ability to ignore obnoxiously rude students.
Danna Baker--I, Danna, leave all my fun times at SCSH to Traci Messick, to my parents many thanks, and to Tammy Davis I leave my friendship.
Vicky Baker--I, Vicky Baker, leave many thanks to Andi Brittingham for always being there for me and to Geoff Klopp I also leave thanks for giving me so many great memories.
Tunisa Benson--I leave my brains to my sister. Give all my love and security to my fiance John Mosley and to raise my child the best way I know how.
Al Brewington--To Kenny Warrington and Trina Mumford I leave my books. I also leave them the wish that they were seniors. And to all the underclassman I leave nothing.
Charles Briggs--I leave to my friends all the thoughts and memories of the good times we have had. To Karen Warren, I leave the thought of what I could have put in here for her.
Holly Brittingham--I leave all my love to Russell Derrickson and all my books and good grades to my nephew Brian Joseph. All my thanks to my family.
Sherri Buckley--To Sheila I leave the adventures of Big Mama Jama, to Sharlene, a Betty Crocker Cookbook. To my sister Tonya all my good grades, and to Karl I leave all my love.
Jodi Bullock--I leave SC to get married.
Kim Clark--I leave to Michele Messina, Tammy Littleton, Adrian Balas, and Sherrie Nickerson all the memories and friendship forever; and to Holly Brittingham I leave my car with the monthly payments.
Sharlene Clauser-- To my two best friends Sheila and Becky, I leave the memory of all our great charades; to Adrian I leave our special frienship; and to my teachers I leave many thanks and Pam.
Heather Combs-- I leave all my love to Jack. I leave many thanks to Mom, John, and Jack for all of their help and encourgement. I leave Handyism to the voters.
Paul Conway--To all the "Good" looking girls at S.C.S.H. I leave my phone number 856-9180. To Mr. Long I leave nothing but the memory of going to the state tournament.
Kim Davis--To my teachers, I leave my gratitude and appreciation; and to Stewart Baker, I leave all my love.
Tammy Davis--I leave to Kenny Warrington, Mr. Mitchell's classes. To my sister I leave my books and the fun times of the Senior year, and to all my teachers, a special thanks.
Frank DePrisco--I leave to the football team a winning record. I leave the Juniors nothing. I leave the Sophomores even less than what I gave the Juniors.
